182.11 RELEASE OF AUNG SAN SUU KYI

Mr. PAYNE of New Jersey moved to suspend the rules and agree to the following resolution (H. Res. 471); as amended:

Whereas in 1988, the Burmese regime brutally suppressed nationwide pro-democracy demonstrations, resulting in the deaths of several thousand people and the imprisonment of several thousand others;

Whereas in 1989, the Burmese regime placed under house arrest Aung San Suu Kyi, the daughter of Burma's founding father and the most prominent figure in the pro-democracy movement;

Whereas in May 1990, the Burmese people in free and fair elections awarded over 80 percent of the National Assembly seats to the National League for Democracy;

Whereas the military regime responded to this expression of the will of the Burmese people not only by refusing to relinquish power, but by further cracking down on opposition politicians and those who supported democracy and human rights in Burma;

Whereas the inhumane practices of the regime prompted a quarter million Rohingya refugees to flee into Bangladesh, where most remain today in refugee camps;

Whereas in 1991, Aung San Suu Kyi was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize for her efforts on behalf of a peaceful transition to democracy in Burma;

Whereas in 1993, several past winners of the Nobel Peace Prize, having been denied permission to visit Burma, traveled to Thailand to call for the release of Aung San Suu Kyi;

Whereas martial law remains in effect in Burma today, with hundreds of political prisoners in custody, human rights frequently violated, and national minorities driven into exile;

Whereas the Government of Burma has denied international humanitarian agencies free and confidential access to prisoners;

Whereas credible reports continue to link Burmese Government officials to the illegal trafficking into Thailand, for purposes of forced prostitution, of approximately 10,000 Burmese women and girls each year, many of whom are deported back to Burma infected with the virus that cause the acquired immune deficiency syndrome (commonly referred to as the "HIV virus");

Whereas the national convention convened by the Burmese Government in January 1993 to begin work on a new constitution does not have the mandate of the Burmese people, nor appear to be progressing toward putting political power in the hands of a freely elected civilian government;

Whereas the United Nations Commission on Human Rights and United Nations General Assembly have adopted consensus resolutions deploring the human rights situation in Burma and expressing grave concerns about the lack of progress toward democracy as well as abuses such as summary and arbitrary executions, torture, forced labor, and oppressive measures against women and ethnic and religious minorities;

Whereas Burma has for many years been the world's largest producer of opium and heroin;

Whereas the United States Government in each of the past 5 years has denied the Government of Burma certification under chapter 8 of part I of the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961 due to a lack of cooperation on narcotics control efforts;

Whereas the problem of drug production and trafficking in Burma cannot be adequately addressed until there is a restoration of democracy in that country;

Whereas credible reports continue to link Burmese Government officials and military officers to drug trafficking;

Whereas since 1988 the United States has been in the forefront of international efforts to promote democracy and human rights in Burma;

Whereas in 1992, the House of Representatives adopted House Resolution 473, which condemned human rights abuses in Burma and called upon the President to seek a mandatory international arms embargo against Burma;

Whereas in fiscal year 1993 the Congress earmarked $1,000,000 to support assistance for Burmese refugees and students on both sides of the Thai/Burma border;

Whereas United States corporations are under increasing pressure from stockholders to divest their holdings in Burma and otherwise to refuse to do business in Burma so long as the current military regime continues to abuse the political and human rights of its people;

Whereas the Government of Thailand has invited the Burmese regime to participate in some of the meetings of the Association of Southeast Asian Nations (ASEAN) in July 1994;

Whereas the Government of Thailand has prohibited senior officials of the National Coalition Government of the Union of Burma from entering Thailand;
